There was one man in the convention, nowever, who did not take the diplomatic assurances from Washington that the con-vention could have Roosevelt if they wanted him, at their value. This man was Senator Quay, who astonished the convention by offering as an amendment to the report of offering as an amendment to the report of the Committee on Rules a provision to cut down the representation to the National Convention from Southern States. Senator Thurston Thinks the Nomi nation Will Prove Costly.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL New York, June 20.—Senator John M Thurston, who is reporting the Philadel phia convention for the New York Journal "I still maintain my belief that Roose velt's acceptance of a vice presidential nom-ination puts hirs out of the presidential probabilities of 1994. The secluded pasture of the vice presidency is surrounded by a barbed-wire fence against presidential outbreak or intervention.

"Therefore, in my judgment, in the parlance of the street, it is "up to" Roose velt, and he must choose as between a vice presidency now and a probable presiof his own fate, and the American people watting his decision.

"I know many of his opponents are in sisting that Roosevelt can keep himsel before the country in the vice presidential position, and that he loses nothing of the presidential chances by accepting the seond place now. They overlook the fact that in the next four years the great questions of expansions and national foreign policy are to be debated, legislated upon their discussion and solvement will be developed the national and popular charac

The entire telegraphic force of the White House was on duty and received all the builetins and press dispatches from Philadelphia. As the President was not overrun with visitors, he had time to read the news of the proceedings of the convention and the doings of the delegates. He received no prominent administration officials after the morning conference relating to affairs in China.

his seat the usual presentation of bistoric gavels occurred, with the usual incidents of the men who presented the gavels turning their back on the chairman to whom the presentations were made and attempting to start booms for candidates. The reading of the platform by Senator Fairbanks was a ghostly demonstration that the party cares little about the issues. Not once was there little about the issues. Not once was there a round of approval from the crowd. Everybody talked. Senator Fairbanks struggled The Hanna ship subsidy plank and the unsympathetic reference to the struggling Boer patriots were read in a loud voice, but there was neither sight nor sound of feeling in the audience. Never before was a Republican platform so brutally received. It might have been the city directory that was being read for all the audience cared.

Now came the Committee on Rules in the building, flery little person of General Bingham. The one significant thing about the new rules was that provision was made, apparently at the suggestion of Mr. Hanna, that the convention could not be stampeded for Governor Roosevelt. In the vote for candidate for President and for Vice President the roll call of States should in no case be dispensed with. Neither could a State change its vote during the roll call.

Ovation to Quay. After the report was read Mr. Quay walked down the main aisle and was forgetfully greeted by the chairman as "the Senator from Pennsylvania." Mr. Quay waved a sheet of paper in his hand. He had an amendment to offer, he said. The immense building shook with the sound of the rising audience, which shouted inself hearse.

Senator Foraker, who does not like Mr. Hanna, demanded that Mr. Quay, who is Mr. Hanna's enemy, should take the platform.

Mr. Quay went to the stage, his face radiant with enthusiasm. The crowd thundered and shrieked. Mr. Quay, the rejected of the McKinley administration, was the hero of the moment. Mr. Hanna scowled and stuck his under lip out savagely as he saw his victim on the relations. saw his victim on the platform.

Mr. Quay offered a resolution to provide that in future each State represented in a Republican National Convention should have one delegate in every 10,000 votes cast for he Republican candidate for President at the last election

It was not until the clerk, who has a voice like a Cathedral bell, began to read a table of figures given to him by Mr. Quay that the audience realized the nature of the amendment. Under the rule proposed by Mr. Quay the State of Alabama, which has Mr. Quay the State of Alabama, which has twenty-two delegates in this convention, would have only eight delegates in the next National Convention, The Republican party in the Southern States is absolutely con-trolled by Mr. Hanna and Mr. McKinley.

As the reading clerk announced the plan of disaster for the South there was a great commotion among the delegates. One Southern delegate after another stood on his chair and protested. Mr. Hanna was agi-tated—that was plain. His lieutenants came to him at his nod and there was a time of swift scurrying about the stage. Senator Foraker and Senator Allison, v were to have nominated President McKin and ran down the aisle to where Mr. Quay stood among his partisans. For the m

Then Sen-ator Foraker moved an adjournment, and

The question now is whether Mr. Quay procured the adjournment in order that he and Senator Platt's friends should have more time to strengthen Governor Roosevelt's rapidly increasing following in the convention or whether Mr. Hanna, realizing the danger that there might already b enough votes pledged to the Governor to nominate him, wished to have enough time for another effort to destroy the Ro regarded as at least singular. The intention probably is to offset the fact that Rus-sia exacted from the United States an agreement that the United States would not permit her troops to be used for con-quest in China, thus making impossible any alliance of the United States against Rossia and her schemes in China with any other Power, and especially Great Britain. Russia it will be noted, has given no offcial statement of her ultimate designs in China after the safety of the missionaries and legations has been secured.

Preparations for War.

The Navy and War departments have made all the preparations considered essen-tial for the war in China, whether this Government Government decides to proclaim that a state of war exists between this country and China, or whether, reserving such proclamation, it joins with the other na-tions to push its way to Pekin from Taku. State Department officials are now re calling the fact that one of the earliest dispatches from Mr. Conger was that the Empress Dowager had withdrawn her army from along the line of the Tien-Tsin-Fekin Railroad at the very time that the Boxers were advancing to Tien-Tsin. China, thus by official act, withdrew protection from the expeditionary column and as an official act, any calamity has befallen the column, is now believed, this withdrawal of the Chinese Imperial troops was a hostile act for which China is responsible to the United States as its marines were in that column. The other hostile act was the firing against the fleet of which the Newark and the Nashville were parts.

It is stated here to-day, on authority, that the first message sent to Pekin by the allied forces under a flag of truce or otherwise will be for an accounting for the Ministers, legations and foreign citizens in Pekin, and for an immediate answer to whether the firing at the fleet was by com-mand from Pekin. Rear Admiral Kempff was instructed to-day to join in such de-mands on the Empress Dowarer. Consular reports, which arrive daily, in-dicate the spread of the outrages against that the British mission at Tsang-Chow has been looted and that the missionaries were carried off by a Chinese General. He also reports the necessity of sending a steamer to take off the British and American missionsaries at Yang-Chikan.

The American Minister at Tokio telegraphs that two transports with 1,300 men and 190 horses salled to-day from Japan for Taku, that 800 Japanese troops have already landed and that five Japanese war vessels are now at Taku. He adds that the Japanese Government is prepared to send additional forces should the necessity arise.

POWERS NOT PULLY AGREED.

POWERS NOT FULLY AGREED. SPECIAL BY CABLE.

Berlin, June 20.—(Copyright, 1900, by the New York Herald Company.)—With regard to the Chinese situation it is learned that ome of the Powers, notably Austria and perhaps England, are in favor of intrusting Japan with a mandate from Europe to send 2000 troops to China. Other Powers oppose this plan. Germany is certainly against it.

Count Von Buelow's cautious policy is designed to eliminate everything which might cause a difference of opinion between the Powers and to limit their action to one point upon which all are in accord, name-iy, the relief of the Pekin legations and the Europeans in the Chinese capital. On the other hand, certain military in-fluences seem to be making themselves felt in the entourage of the Kaiser, influences which have for their object the undertaking of military operations on a large scale.

The Admiralty is still without news of the death of Captain Lans, commander of the Iltis, or the wounding of Lieutenant Kuchen. There is no officer of this name, but there is a Lieutenant Kuchne. Steamers of the North German Lloys company, the Frankfurt and the Wittekind, have just been chartered to transport th battalions of marine infantry which have just been mobilized. They will leave for China within eight days. The war strength of these battalions is 1,400 each. The com-mander of the First Battalion is Major

It has been ascertained that 10,000 Chinese troops, who deserted to the Poxers, did so under direct orders of the Chinese Government. The promotion to the highest positions of notoriously anti-European officials also points in the same direction. This is the war of China against all foreigners, including Germans, and the point now is to go ahead vigorously. quickly and resolutely, no matter what the lects the view of political circles in Berlin,

"A Power which is unable in time of to protect envoys accredited to it from its own subjects has ceased to exist as a state. We do not doubt that all the Cabinets are inspired by a determination to save what can be saved."

The Government has ordered the Germa Consul at Che-Foo to establish a postal service by sea between Che-Foo and Taku immediately. The gunboat Luchs, which arrived at Kiel yesterday, destined for South America, has been ordered to proceed to China, and is hastily preparing to sall to-morrow. The new armored cruiser Fuerst Bismarck, is under orders to be ready to sail for Chinese waters within a week. The naval authorities in the ship yards at Kiel are showing extraordinary activity. UNITED STATES COURSE. Paris, June 20,-The United States, It is asserted here, was at first disposed to act independently in behalf of her citizens and interests in China, but it is now averred that the Americans will join the other Powers in police measures.

"The Government is held responsible for these misfortunes, and in order to affect it injuriously the simplest and most effective method to pursue is to attack Christian converts and foreigners. By the treaties converts to Christianity must be protected in their cult, and the foreign Powers do not

"It is scarcely to be doubted that if Russia were to take Manchuria, England would take the Yang-Tse Valley, Germany Central China, and France the two provinces of which Canton is the chief city. What Japan would do is problematical-possibly she might claim the provinces which are she might claim the provinces which are nearest to Pormosa, including the thriving towns of Amoy and Fu-Chow, and possibly she might fight. "After this is all said there is really somewhere in our natures a sympathy with the oppressed and against the wrongdoor. Is it improper to say that this feeling with go out to the Empress? The foreign class claims that she is favoring the Boxers. As nobody doubts her intelligence it is hard to believe that she is fostering an organization whose depredations may cost her her Em pire. "The condition throughout the country."

"The condition throughout the country "The condition throughout the country this year is dreadful—beyond power to express. Even in the best years there is poverty such as we know nothing of in America. This year there was a failure of the crops, and as a result many families, usually in comfortable circumstances, were reduced to want. All around people were dying of cold and hunger. Church mem-bers were in a very destitute condition. "Chaff, peanut busks, sweet potato vines

Orders Taking It to China Affect Pay Adversely.

Washington, June 30.-The impres prevails in the Paymaster General's office War Department, that the Ninth Infantry which is to proceed from Manila to China will incur substantial money loss in do-ing so. By the act of May 26 last Congress provided that the United States troops on duty in the Philippines, Porto Rico and Cuba should be allowed 19 per cent additional for the officers and 29 per cent additional pay for the privates. Up to that time the Pay Department had been paying the men the same bonus un der the act of April 25, 1898, which permit der the act of April 25, 1885, which permitted war pay to soldlers serving outside of the United States. The pay officers regarded the later act as taking the place completely of the former, so, as China is not one of the places specified where additional pay may be given, the Ninth Infances will lose a very substantial sum of try will lose a very substantial sum of money by being called into extra hazardous service. As it is evident, however, that this was not the intent of Congress, the Comptroller of the Treasury to-day was called upon by the War Department for a formal construction of the law in this case, in the hope that he may find some m of preventing this injustice from t

Grave View of the Situation in China.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Philadelphia, June 29.-In the opinion of enator Davis of Minnesota, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, the situation in China is even more grave than published dispatches would indicate and may develop into an international probem such as the Powers have not had to deal with in many years.

"No man can tell what will come out of the present situation in China," said Sen-ator Davis when seen this evening, "I shall, be agreeably disappointed if the immediate consequence does not result in complicaout. Moreover, generations to come may find that in awakening China the Western world has brought into existence a giant which will insist upon taking part in affairs at inopportune moments. That the Powers are in a dilemma which they would have been glad to avoid may be taken for have been glad to avoid may be taken for granted. It seems inevitable that China will be partitioned. Certainly the acting Empress will be dethroned. This cannot be done without a war, which probably will repeat itself many times."

San Francisco, Cal., June 20.-Mrs. A. P. Lowrie, a Presbyterian missionary, who has been stationed at Pao-Ting-Fo for the last six years, arrived here on the Doric. She reports that on the night of May 16 many native Christians, principally women and children, were murdered by the Boxers while fleeling from Pao-Ting-Fu toward Tien-Tsin. This was about ten miles from Mrs. Lawrie's station, which was not disturbed. The native Christians had been attacked on May 15, but successfully repulsed the horde of murderers, but in trying to reach Tien-Tsin the following night were overtaken and murdered and the Boxers then returned to Pao-Ting-Fu and burned all the houses of their victims

Turners Denounce the Policy of the Administration.

Philadelphia. June 20.—The fiftieth annual convention of the North American Turnerbund was ended to-day, and the remainder of the week will be devoted to the exercises attending the golden jubilee of the organization. Among the resolutions adopted at to-day's session was the following:

"We recognize the right of all people to defend with arms of warfare their liberty and independence. We consider every attempt through the methods of war at territorial expansion as opposed to civilization and as an act of brutal force. We condemn every effort to extend the blessings of civilization with sword and gun as one based upon hypocrisy and greed for gain. We protest against the policy of conquest of this Government, and against every attempt toward expanding the domain of the United States by force."

The resolution recommending that at the seminary for the training of tutors in physical culture the teachers in the future adopt the English language in conjunction with German for tenching was adopted. It was ordered that the directors obtain as early as possible a superintendent properly equipped for the seminary. All day incoming trains from every sec-tion of the country brought hordes of Tur-ners, accompanied by their wives and chil-dren, and to-night the jubilee began with a festival performance at the Academy of Music.

ROBBED IN HIS HOME.

Farmer Loses Nearly Three Thousand Dollars.

Reytersille Specials. June 28.—John Regers, 2 farmer, living two miles south of Logonda. Chariton County, was robbed of something over $2.50 by three men, who came to his chariton County, was robbed of somethins over $2.80 by three men, who came to his house the night of the 18th at about it o'clock. After answering Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, one of the men ethe other two kept in the background) told Mrs. Rogers her brother, W. B. Clark of Marceline, lead been thrown from a busgy and nearly killed, and that he, the messenger, had come for her.

The man fumbled in his pecket for a note, but failed to find it, and said he must have lost it between the house and the yard gate. Mrs. Rogers prepared a lamp. She and the man started to look for the note.

Just as they left the house the other two men, who had been in hiding, rushed into the house and assaulted Mr. Rogers with clubs, and, after heating him line insensibility, proceeded to ransack a trunk of something over $2.80. Mrs. Rogers, when she heard them enter the house, attempted to return to her husband's rescue, but the man who was with her pushed her into another room, and gave her to understand that she would not be hurt, if she only kept still. The money received, the three men took their departure.

When Mr. Rogers came to his senses, he got up and went to the front door with his nistol in hand, but fell out of the door in a faint. It was three hours before he again recovered consciousness, but it is now thought he will recover, although his ina faint. It was three hours before he again recovered consciousness, but it is now thought he will recover, although his injuries are serious. Rogers is well-to-do, and has considerable money louned out around the neighborhood. He was eccentric on the subject of banks, which accounts for the large sum of money at the house.

Mrs. Rogers thinks sha recognized two of the robbers. James Wilson, a neighbor recently returned from the pentientiary, where he had served a term for horsestealing, has been arrested, having been trailed to his house by a bloodhound belonging to City Marshal Crawford of Salisbury. Other arrests are expected to follow. A mask and a club were found near Rogers's house this morning.
